PERMITS

To obtain a permit, a 'local sponsor' (i.e. contact person) is mandatory. They must be Israeli, and personally acquainted with all passengers (not just a travel agent or hotel representative).

All permit applications are dealt with by ASOC: http://asoc.mot.gov.il/
The website can be confusing but we will break it down for you:

1. Apply for Security Arrival Permit
2. The authorities will reply to you with a Pending Permission Notification.
3. The Captain is then to call or log in to submit an Entry Code for the Arrival Identification Procedure. The Pending Permission becomes a Final Security Arrival Permit.
4. The Arrival Identification Procedure is basically just this: before takeoff, call ASOC (+972-3-959-9800) and tell them you're ready to depart, then on entering Israel airspace, ATC will ask for your Entry Code to approve you for entry.

HANDLING & FUEL

LLBG Tel Aviv is the main airport for GA/BA flights. All the handlers there are excellent, although our personal preference is QAS Executive Aviation. Contact them for help arranging services in Israel.
At LLBG, there are a few restrictions to be aware of:
- No arrivals from 01:00-01:50 local every day.
- No departures from 00:00-05:20 local every day.
- No departures or arrivals from 05:20-08:00 local from Sunday - Friday.

CHECKLIST

Essentials for Operating to Israel:

- ☐ Permit required for all types of flight. If it's your first time operating to Israel, apply for the landing permit at least 4 days in advance, and ensure the whole process is completed at least 6 hours prior to departure to Israel.
- ☐ Most countries in the Middle East and north Africa have banned both direct flights and overflying traffic to/from Israel. Check out the full list here. There is a corridor through the Red Sea to get in/out of Israel that avoids these countries.
- ☐ Overflights of Israel are prohibited, except for some Royal Jordanian and diplomatic/state flights.
- ☐ If you pass additional ASOC security you may be able to operate to/from airports other than LLBG, particularly if you have Israeli citizens onboard.
- ☐ Can only operate to Israel from certain authorized airports. An unauthorized airport can sometimes receive an exceptional approval. See the full list of airports here.
